Marlborough Museum

Marlborough Historical Society Inc members have been the driving force behind Marlborough Museum for many years.

Indeed the whole of Brayshaw Heritage Park its very existence to the generosity of a number of people involved in the Marlborough Historical Society, and other groups now operating from Brayshaw Heritage Park.

The Marlborough Historical Society Inc exists to preserve Marlborough's history and to share and celebrate it with our communities.

Our role is to collect, preserve, research, interpret, present and provide historical resource material relating to the natural and human heritage of Marlborough.

We fulfill this role mainly through Museum services and embrace other activities to inspire and educate our community through heritage and culture.

The MHS Objectives and Aims are set out in the MHS Archives and Museum Management Policies dated 1998. The Society's role is to encourage an interest in the study and preservation of history and heritage in its broadest sense.

Therefore the Governance role the MHS has for the Museum, is but one element of its role, objectives and aims however much of this work is achieved in and through the Museum operations.
